

In our nation the media carry much power. It is urgent that there be varied representative voices through the media and that they not all be controlled by one form of ownership.